Key Dates

3 April	Applications Open
16 September	Applications Close

The Schools Recommendation Scheme (SRS) gives Australian Year 12 students who have applied for undergraduate admission through UAC an opportunity to be assessed on criteria other than, or in addition to, the ATAR.

Institutions use a wide range of selection criteria, including school recommendations and senior secondary studies. They have their own policies on determining SRS eligibility and making offers.

Before you can apply for SRS, you need to apply for undergraduate admission through UAC. When you do, you'll be issued with a UAC application number, which you'll need to commence your SRS application.

This year, the following institutions will be participating in SRS:

- AIE Institute
- Australian Catholic University
- Australian College of Physical Education
- Charles Sturt University
- International College of Management, Sydney
- Macquarie University
- National Art School*
- SAE Creative Media Institute
- Torrens University Australia
- University of Canberra
- University of New England
- University of Newcastle
- University of Notre Dame, Australia
- University of Technology Sydney
- Western Sydney University

Most of these institutions also run their own separate early entry programs, in addition to the SRS scheme. Institutions without a separate early entry program are marked with a *.

Institutions may have other criteria or deadlines for the SRS. It is advised to check with these institutions directly.

The Early Offer program allows Year 12 students to secure a place in a Southern Cross University degree before Year 12 results are released. It's designed to remove some of the pressure from Year 12 and provide a pathway directly into university study that is not based solely on Year 12 results.

University of Canberra Early Entry Programs

<https://www.canberra.edu.au/future-students/get-into-uc/admissions-programs>

Key Dates

May 2024	University of Canberra Early Offer Round Application Open
-----------------	---

At UC there are a number of ways you can gain admission into your preferred course.

School Recommendation Scheme

If you're a current Year 12 student, your school can recommend you for admission to the University of Canberra in advance of receiving your ATAR results, based on your abilities and success to date. Like your main application to UC, Schools Recommendation Scheme applications are also made through UAC.

If you apply for the SRS, your school's rating of your aptitudes will be considered, including your capacity for tertiary study. Applying through the SRS doesn't guarantee you an offer to the University of Canberra, as course quotas and other criteria still need to be considered.

If successful, you'll receive an early offer to UC for your chosen course in November.

To apply for the SRS, the first step is to speak with your school careers adviser to find out how your school is managing SRS applications. Each school can choose how they want to use SRS so it's important you find out about your school's process, selection criteria and timelines before you start.

Once you have familiarised yourself with your school's SRS application process, submit your university application through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC). You'll then be able to use your UAC application number to start your SRS application.

University of Canberra Early Offer Round

If you're a current Year 12 student applying to UC for undergraduate study next year, you could receive an early admission offer under the Early Offer Round using criteria other than your ATAR.

You can find out more about the Early Offer Round by contacting our Future Students Team.
